

EXTEND PAVEMENT WEST OF MAIN ST. COST NEAR $60,000

Five bids were received for improving one mile of the Cherry Valley road from the end of West Main street. The bids were opened in the commissioners' office yesterday afternoon. The road is to be 42 feet wide, and built either of brick or of asphaltic concrete. It will cost approximately, if built of brick, about $60,000, and if asphaltic concrete, about $57,000. This, of course, includes the Ohio Electric railroad's share of the expense. The contract may be let within a day or two as it will take some time to compile the various bids.

manding artillery and observation positions in this region when the Messines ridge fell into British hands. The Germans are finding the pressure at some points beyond their ability to meet. One of the first results had been abandonment of an important section of the first line between the River Lys and St. Yves.

General Haig announced that the British are following the Germans closely and are moving forward east of Ploegsteert wood and in the neighborhood of Gaspard village. On the French front conditions remain comparatively unchanged. Last night the Germans after bombardments, attacked French posts in the Alsine region and northwest of Verdun. The French easily repulsed these assaults.

In Greece the entente is making good its grip upon the situation shown in the abdication of King Constantine and the accession of Alexander by landing troops to occupy various strategic positions. French cavalry, doubtless for the pressure of prolonging the ripening crops in Thessaly already has penetrated far inland and occupied Larissa. Today the landing of other entente forces on the coast near Athens is reported.

Preservation of order in the capital and control of the situation near the seat of Government seem the objects in view of this move.

MASONS TO UNVEIL NEW STATUE FROM BAUGHMAN'S HAND

Licking and Muskingum county Masonic bodies have been asked to attend the unveiling of a new monument from the chisel of Brice B. Baughman, undertaker-farmer-sculptor, who has made his farm at Black Run one of the points of interest in Central Ohio by the many statues of American heroes which he has chiseled out of the sandstone on his place as a Memorial Park.

Sunday afternoon, June 24, at 2 o'clock, a statue of Washington will be unveiled. Zanesville Masons have been asked to take charge of the ceremonies. Newark lodges have been invited to take part and it is probable that there will be a large attendance of Masons from this city.

Both the speeches and the music will be of a patriotic nature.

Brubaker Awarded Coveted H. S. Honor

CARL H. BRUBAKER.

Carl H. Brubaker, of this year's graduating class of Newark high school, had the honor of being presented the "Harvard cup" by Supt. Hawkins on commencement night.

This cup is awarded annually by John Sherwood Flock, a graduate of Harvard University, who is at present in the officers' training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison.

The cup is awarded to the best all-around boy of the graduating class. Character, scholarship, popularity and athletics are the requirements taken into consideration.

Although much surprised at receiving such a high honor, he responded in a fitting manner to Mr. Hawkins' words of presentation. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Brubaker, 99 Riley street.

Newark Rumanians who were unfortunate enough to have been subjects of Austria-Hungary, object to being classed as enemy aliens. They have taken official action to request the registration board to make such alterations in the records of Tuesday's enrollment as will free them from such status.

The following communication, addressed to the registration officials, and approved by the Rumanian societies has been delivered:

"To the Board of Registration and the Public of the City of Newark: 'On June 5th last, the registrars did not register all foreigners according to their nationality, which fact must have been overlooked, as we as a nation are Rumanians from Transylvania, a province of Austro-Hungary, seized from Rumania many years ago, and we number over 4,000,000. Our sympathy has always been with our mother nation, Rumania. There are many nationalities in Austro-Hungary under the same yoke, and we do not want to be classed as Austro-Hungarians, when our sympathy and friendship has always been with America and her Allies. We have always given evidence of our loyalty to this United States of America as our adopted country, and will fight for it, in its war against autocracy and Prussianism. In conclusion, would like the Board of Registration to recognize the fact that while we were classed as Austro-Hungarians, we don't want to be classed as alien-enemies, subject to internment, as we are Rumanians in thought and spirit and ask for the privilege of serving this our adopted country in any manner that the government sees fit. So asking that you will make correction and set us right in the eyes of the American people, and assuring you of our unchanging loyalty to the United States of America, I am yours very truly.

THIEF LEAVES STOLEN CAR AGAIN NEAR SCHEIDLER SHOP

A Ford automobile belonging to Robert Costello, a B. and O. mechanic, was stolen last evening from in front of the Auditorium theatre. When Mr. Costello and his companion drove into the square last evening he remarked "I'll not park along the court house curb as there is where they stole the Stubauch machine." He drove on to the Auditorium and parked in front of the building under the rays of a powerful electric light. When he left the theatre the machine was gone and he remarked, "I'd better have parked where the machine was stolen last Saturday night. He reported his loss to the police department and early this morning it was found in the vicinity of the Scheidler machine shop, which is a favorite spot to abandon stolen cars. This makes the fourth case found there by local patrolmen.

PARIS WILD WITH ENTHUSIASM WHEN PERSHING ARRIVES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Paris, Wednesday, June 13.—Paris opened its arms to General John J. Pershing and his staff this afternoon and welcomed them with an outburst of spontaneous enthusiasm, such as only Paris is capable of. No conquering hero returning home could have hoped for or received such a tremendous reception as greeted the American commander as his automobile sped through hundreds of thousands of cheering people.

Paris, and particularly the French authorities, have planned and hoped for a great reception, but it is doubtful whether even the most optimistic pictured the almost frantic crowds that all but blocked the progress of the automobiles. Men and women cheered themselves hoarse and flung masses of flowers into the cars. Parisians declared that the only event in their lifetime that approximates the reception in enthusiasm was that accorded to King George of England in 1914.

When the special train reached the station, General Pershing and Field Marshal Joffre were the first to appear. Behind them came a stream of American officers, each with a French officer as his host. The first shout of welcome became a continuous roar that seemed to shake the station to its foundations. The police hurriedly began to clear a lane down which a half dozen automobiles moved at a snail's pace between frantic throngs.

From hundreds of windows American flags were waved by men, women and children. French girls, with flags pinned to their breasts and their arms filled with flowers bought from their scanty savings fairly fought for a chance to get near enough to the machines to hurl their offerings into the laps and on the shoulders of the astonished American officers.

The Americans apparently had not imagined the heights to which Parisian enthusiasm could rise. Boys, men and girls, and even some old women, struggled to jump on the running-board of General Pershing's car to shake hands with him.

It was not General Pershing alone who came in for unprecedented ovations, but every American caught sight of by the people was almost burdened with flowers. Crowds shouted themselves hoarse with cheers for America.

From every housetop all along the route from every window, from every elevation, and from the thousands upon thousands who choked every thoroughfare in the vicinity of the line of march, there was hurled a welcome that no American in Paris will ever forget.

General Pershing was expected to arrive from Boulogne at 5 o'clock but his special train did not reach Paris until 6:30. This gave opportunity for thousands who work until 8 o'clock to mass themselves along the route, until the congestion became so great that transportation was tied up.

General Pershing's features were not familiar to the people, but "Papa" Joffre's cap caught the eye of the people and revealed the identity of the soldier in khaki at his side.

At the station, General Pershing was met by a group of French officials, including Minister Viviani, Marshal Joffre and Generals Foch, Painleve and Pettier, and by a group of Americans, headed by Ambassador Sharp. At one end of the station was an improvised throne with red tapestries, such as is erected when royalty is visiting the city, which had been put up for the occasion. Before leaving the station the party assembled at this point. Speeches of welcome were delivered by prominent Frenchmen.

A dinner was given tonight to General Pershing at the American embassy. Premier Ribot, Marshal Joffre, Ministers Viviani and Painleve, and other leading military and naval officers and public men were present. The dinner was informal. Toward the close, Ambassador Sharp proposed the health of the president of the United States, and the success of the expedition on which General Pershing is entering.

The premier responded, greeting the American commander as representing the American army and people in the undertaking on which they are now embarking. He wished them all success and proposed the health of President Wilson.

AUTO CRASHES INTO POLE; ZANESVILLE MAN IS INJURED

Alden Jackson, of Zanesville, and nephew of Dr. W. L. Jackson, corner of Licking county, was injured in an automobile accident at Hudson avenue and Locust street, Wednesday night, shortly before midnight.

The young man with two young women friends had been attending a party and had taken two boys friends in the machine to take them to their home in North Newark. The machine belonged to Mr. Jackson, but one of the other men was driving it. Being strangers in the city, and not knowing that Hudson avenue crossed to the left at Locust street, they did not make the turn, but ran into a telephone pole at the corner. The heavy rain also made driving difficult, and after the machine struck the pole it rebounded and before the driver could regain control of the steering wheel it had plunged upon the sidewalk and into the fence surrounding the home of George Sprague.

Dr. Louis Mitchell dressed the injuries of Jackson, who was the only one of the party to be injured. He suffered a broken arm, and a number of cuts and bruises about the head. He was taken to the hospital. Some of Dr. Jackson, who took him to his home in Zanesville today.

DR. M'CUAIG CLOSES HIS LECTURE SERIES

The McCuaig campaign in Newark came to an end yesterday with two well-attended meetings. At the close of the night meeting, at which Dr. McCuaig spoke on "The Sweet Bye and Bye," enthusiastic complimentary addresses were made by Rev. C. H. Stull, Rev. C. G. Hazlett, and Rev. R. E. Carman. An informal reception was held at the close of the service when many crowded forward to bid Dr. McCuaig farewell.

In the afternoon, Dr. McCuaig brought to a close his course of addresses to women on marriage, when he spoke on the subject: "Courtship."

Dr. McCuaig said that there are three critical periods in the life of the girl which should be watched carefully and influenced by the mother. The first is the period of infancy, the second is between the ages of 11 and 14, when a girl undergoes the physical change which makes her a woman and the third—which he declared to be the most critical of all—when the wonder of her love is unfolding.

The mother who thinks that her laughter can look out for herself in forming her associates and attachments at this period of her life, is ignorant of the forces which underlie the lives of many men and women, asserted the speaker.

The greatest tragedy in the life of a woman, he declared, is the giving of her love to a man who cannot be hers.

CROTON PEOPLE ARE AROUSED TO RED CROSS NEEDS

Rev. L. P. Franklin and George H. Mosser spoke to the people of Croton last night on the Red Cross campaign. They were accompanied by Dr. Hurdley of Doane academy, Granville, C. H. Spencer and W. C. Miller. They were in competition with a traveling show and abandoned the Congregational church, where the meeting was to be held, and found their audience on the public square. As a result of the vigorous presentation of America's present war situation, the Croton people were thoroughly aroused and will do their "bit" in the campaign next week. A big community meeting has been arranged for Croton Saturday night in Knights of Pythias hall.

W. E. Hopkins and A. R. Evans spoke to Centennial Grange last night and 75 residents of Newton township were present. They stirred the farming element and a committee was appointed to cover that district with the following workers: A. F. Riley, chairman; A. R. Hays, E. C. Alsop, B. M. Porter and J. C. Stinson.

Paul B. Smythe and Dr. W. H. Lewis made strong presentations of the campaign plans in the Maple Avenue Christian Union church last night and enlisted the support of the members of that congregation.

Tonight meetings will be held at Newark Grange, Central City; Hanover Grange, Hanover; Franklin Grange, Franklin township; Jacksonton Grange, Jacksonton; Chatham Grange, J. R. Fitzgibbon will speak on the Red Cross movement at the Elk's flag raising on the Newark public square this evening.

A large consignment of advertising matter and campaign forms has been received from the National Red Cross at Washington, D. C., and is at Chamber of Commerce headquarters.

H. R. T. Miller and S. E. Hoover, two prominent business men, will represent Croton at the county workers get-together dinner in the Second Presbyterian church, Newark, at 6 o'clock Friday night. Other delegates throughout the county are asked to send in their names to Geo. H. Mosser, Chamber of Commerce, chairman of the Rural District campaign. It is a complimentary dinner to the workers.

TRAMP KILL CANTON MAN; BEATEN WITH BIG CLUB

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Canton, O., June 11.—James O'Brien, aged about 30, place of residence unknown, was beaten to death with a six-foot club wielded by an unknown person last night. Two suspects, who are said to be tramps, are under arrest.

O'Brien had been working about Brewster for several weeks. He is known to have had some money yesterday. This morning his body was found by railroad men about a mile east of Brewster along a railroad track. His head had been crushed. A club nearby showed that it had been used in the killing. The sheriff and a posse started on the case and worked on the theory that O'Brien had been killed by tramps for the purpose of getting his money.

EXPLOSION WRECKS SUGAR PLANT; OVER SCORE ARE INJURED

(Associated Press Telegram)

New York, June 14.—Twenty workmen are believed to have been killed and buried under piles of walls of the seven story mixing building of the American Sugar Refining company's plant in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn, which were ripped apart by an explosion late last night.

Fire following the explosion was not brought under control until early today and firemen and volunteers rescuers were unable to get under the wrecked building in search of the dead. Of the scores of workmen who were taken to Brooklyn hospitals one died last night and many others were not expected to live. Not more than 100 of the 500 men in the building at the time of the explosion escaped serious or minor injury.

Several investigations were begun today in an effort to determine the cause of the explosion.

The American Refining company has large orders for a new plant and the particular building in which the explosion occurred was one from which the refined sugar was being loaded for export to Europe.

When the search for dead was begun this morning, 36 persons were unaccounted for, although it was believed that nearly half of these were employees, foreigners, who escaped and fled to their homes. The missing included Henry Nidrin, assistant superintendent who was seen in the building ten minutes prior to the explosion. The first find by the firemen today was a human arm.

Granville

(Special to The Advocate)

Granville, June 14.—Contrary to expectations, the commencement just closed, has been a most interesting and successful one, with even a greater number of visitors in attendance than for some years past. The weather has been perfect, and despite the lack of athletics and the time-honored ball game, the events have proved highly interesting. Today it is all over but the final fireworks and by the end of the week, the old town will have relapsed into the comparative quiet which is popularly supposed to be its chief characteristic.

Mr. and Mrs. James Adair, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Lovler of Dayton, who have been guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ferguson, left yesterday for the return motor trip to the Gem City.

The fraternity houses were all thrown open last evening in the very last event of the commencement week.

Dr. G. M. Peters, who for several years has served as president of the Denison board of trustees, declined re-election to that office and at the last meeting of the board Mr. C. T. Lewis of Toledo was unanimously elected, with Mr. E. A. Deeds of Dayton vice president.

Percy Wiltsie of Cincinnati has been one of the commencement visitors at the Sigma Chi house.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lewis and two children of Toledo, accompanied by Dr. Worth Brown and daughter of Baltimore, left Granville this morning.

Mrs. James R. Hopiey of Bucyrus was in Granville for one day of the commencement festivities.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Thresher of Dayton were the guests for a few days this week of their sister, Dr. Zella Allen Dixon, who has returned to Granville for the summer.

John W. Handley, who has accepted a position in Cleveland for the summer, expects to leave for that city on Saturday.

CIRCUS CLOWNS FEIGN HURTS TO MAKE BIG AUDIENCE LAUGH

Baker Brothers, Who Create Comic Calamities

The movie hero who just goes about death defying all the time, has no laurels that the circus clown doesn't reap when he is shot from the cannon's mouth, licked by the hungry flames of a burning building, flattened by a steam roller or dropped from an airship high in the rigging of the big top.

The only difference is that the movie hero wants to grip your heart with terror and the clown wants to make your sides ache with laughter. It's all in the intention, as they say, when they try folks for murder in the first degree.

When Barnum & Bailey circus comes to town Saturday, there will be sixty towns whose comic defiance of comic death will make you giggle. They invent more ways of seeming to be hurt, from the just missed kick of a calico mule to the air-piercing thrust of a folding saber, and come out less scathed than anybody anywhere ever before.

The modern clown must invent new tricks each year, and at the same time he must appreciate the fact that many of the old tricks have become institutions that would be missed if they were not included in the program of fun.

their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Case, left yesterday for a visit to Madison, Ind., after which they will take up their residence in "Fulton, Iowa, sixty miles from Des Moines. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sheppard of Grand Rapids, Mich., have been at "Greenwood", the home of their sister, Miss Eva Robinson, on the Newark road.

Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Colwell, with their daughter, Miss Margaret, and

What would anybody think of a circus that didn't have at least one of its clowns kicked by a mule? Answer: Nothing.

There is just one rule about clown tricks in the Barnum & Bailey circus. They must be free from suggestion of an unpleasant nature. The idea is to make fun and any seasoned clown is entitled to try for that result in any way he likes. If his "act" doesn't go, it is abandoned by the clown before the circus management can take a hand, for there is nothing so discouraging to the professional laugh-maker as to fail to produce laughter.

The clowns will come and go during three hours of wonderful circus stunts. The performance opens with a spectacular pageant entitled, "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp" in which more than one thousand men and women and all of the elephants, camels and horses of the circus take part. The costuming of this pageant is said to be more ambitious than anything attempted before by the circus.

For more than two hours there will be acrobatics, exhibitions of horsemanship and daring trapeze performances in every part of the big arena.

Mrs. L. H. Cammack of Huntington, W. Va., has been the guest of her father, Mr. Hiram La Ferre, during the past week.

Mrs. Eugenia Finley and niece, Frances Mullens, left this morning via the T. & O. C. for Battle Creek, Mich., where she will join her brother and sister for several weeks.

FARMER TAKES AUTO PARTY FOR THIEVES; MRS. REDELLE DEAD

(Associated Press Telegram)

Springfield, O., June 14.—With the body of Mrs. J. Elmer Redelle, wife of the president of the Springfield baseball club, lying in the morgue riddled with a charge from a shotgun, J. M. Hinkle, a farmer, east of here, was placed under arrest early this morning and held pending an investigation. Mrs. Redelle was killed while she was out auto-riding with Harry C. Ensign and M. T. Ballentine, auto dealers, and Miss Myra Bowlius. Ensign says he was on his way to the country to interview a man and had an opportunity to demonstrate a car to Miss Bowlius, desiring to sell to her father. When he met Miss Bowlius, according to the story told the police, she was accompanied by Mrs. Redelle, Miss Bowlius says they accompanied the men upon invitation.

The shooting occurred near Pitchfork. Ballentine received four shots in his left elbow and back, but was only slightly injured. The other occupants of the car were not hit.

Hinkle, shortly after being arrested, confessed to doing the shooting, using a double-barrel shotgun. He says that he heard the automobile stop near where his hogs are kept. Hearing the animals squeal, he thought an attempt was being made to steal them, and rushing up he arrived just in time to see the auto start. He says he called out for them to stop, and upon their failure to do so, he fired, one load glancing off the radiator and another discharge striking the automobile in the front windshield on the left side. This is presumed the shot that killed Mrs. Redelle.

J. Elmer Redelle is well-known in Newark, having made a number of trips to this city in connection with baseball. He was one of the prominent figures in the Central League organization when Newark was a part of that league.

FINNISH TROUBLES ARE SATISFACTORILY SETTLED

(Associated Press Telegram)

Petrograd, via London, June 14.—The conflict caused by Finland's claim that the rights of the former emperor as Grand Duke of Finland did not pass automatically to the provisional government has been satisfactorily settled by a new law which would be valid until Russian relations are regulated by the Constitutional assembly. The right to decide all state transactions excepting affairs affecting Russian subjects and also the right to fix the date for the opening and closing of the Finnish Diet is conceded to the Finnish senate.

Finland also gets the right of legislative initiative, the right to confirm the budget, revoke administrative decrees, summon the council and finally, the right to pardon offenders, counted in almost all countries as a sovereign prerogative. A WOBBLY ALLY.

Three years ago if anyone had said that American safety and prosperity depended in the least degree on such a remote creature as the Russian peasant, he would have been called crazy. Yet the stock market, which reflects business temperature, rises or falls according to the news from Russia.

If the crackpots and featherheads of the new regime seem to have the ear of the dazed and bewildered moujik, down go our stocks. Obviously if Russia is to be a quitter, the American task is made twice as great and the war prolonged.

Russia is simply crazy if it imagines it can play any lone hand. The democratic nations will have to hang together or hang separately. If one of them defaults on the field of honor, who will go to her help, next time? The dreamy Socialists of Russia think they are working for a Utopian peace where the lion and the lamb shall become playmates and everything be lovey-dovey. Actually they are playing the Kaiser's game and should be rewarded with the iron cross.

Also, if Russia is to be a real republic, it must have a real election and have it right away. The excuse is given that the peasants are too busy farming to stop and elect their officers. If that excuse had ever been given in this country for the postponement of an election, it would have been obvious that it was contrary to some one's interest to let the people have a voice. Provisional governments usually provision themselves only. It looks as if the crowd in control at Petrograd were fearful of the sober sense of the Russian masses.

America is represented at Petrograd now by an able mission. Meanwhile let us all remember that it is for the interest of our enemies to see that all this unrest is reported to Russia's allies. There used to be riot and disorder under the old regime, but it did not get by the censorship.

HOME-BUILDING.

This is a mobile and shifting age. People move around from town to town. Not many people own their own homes as formerly. Workmen dislike to tie themselves to any one town. They wish to be free to change employers over night and if they own their own homes they feel anchored to the spot. Whether they gain by this freedom of location is another question.

The old saying was that three moves were equal to one fire. Trucking and freightage cost heavily nowadays. They eat up the advances in pay that look alluring.

Then the workmen has to pay higher rent than he used to. Building costs good money and the landlord charges it up to rent. It is not advisable to rent unsanitary quarters at any price. A clean, neat house in which one can bring up a family respectable costs good money.

People who set out to own their own homes make no mistakes. For the time being they may have to get along with lower wages than the shifters and rolling stones. But by working in one community they gain an acquaintance that makes them valuable. At the end of a period of years they fare well in a money way. Companies go into profitable business open up to those who locate in one town and identify themselves with the people.

It does not take a large capital for a man to own his own home. He can pay the bulk of the cost on mort-

IT IS UP TO ALL OF US

The United States is at war. If we are to win, as we must, every particle of energy in the country must be directed to that end and to no other.

Don't imagine that this war is a thing apart from yourself. Don't lull yourself into the belief that our distance from the scene of action spells security. Our fighting men are now in Europe and thousands upon thousands of others will soon be there. We must feed and protect our own men and our allies. We must raise $100,000,000 next week for the American Red Cross. Forty thousand dollars of this great fund for war relief must come from the people of Licking county. Be prepared to give and to give liberally.

COMMENCEMENT.

It is common for wise and disillusioned elders to poke fun at the spirit of school and college commencements. How little these graduates know of life, is remarked. What big things they are going to do, what impossible dreams of achievement they entertain. What high ideals they are going to pursue, which afterwards they find will be impracticable.

It is most fortunate that there are those who have courage to go ahead, try out new ideas, risk new enterprises, dream new dreams, and try to work them out. If it were not for this spirit of youth, no wars would be fought for justice and liberty. It is young people who push ahead and start new enterprises.

It is too easy for older people to get into a critical habit of mind. Every idea that is proposed has to them its weaknesses. They have become able by experience to detect possibilities of failure. That makes them hesitating about attempting new things. They daily, weigh, and ponder, and as a consequence don't accomplish much, either for themselves or the community.

It is a blessing not to see all the possibilities of failure. Young people do not see these adverse chances and they go ahead with some courage. They may fall down again and again, but all the time they are learning and getting somewhere. Finally, their courage, enterprise and ambition lead them on to substantial success.

It is with this spirit that school and college graduates come into the community. Let no one throw any wet blanket over their hopes and expectations. For one thing they have a better equipment than their fathers and mothers started with. And they will realize a lot more of their hopes than some people think.

"PARLEZ VOUS FRANCIS, MONSIEUR!"

(Minneapolis Evening Tribune.)

Those National Guardsmen who served on the Mexican border and put in some serious hours with the Spanish language will do well now to apply themselves with like zeal to French. If they have any expectation of going to war on the European fronts. A knowledge of French is worth while in almost any part of the world. It is a kind of universal subsidiary tongue, particularly in Europe.

The American soldier who goes abroad to fight will have an enviable distinction among and advantage over his fellowcountrymen if he is able to read French books, papers and letters, and can speak and understand enough to carry on a simple conversation with a native Frenchman. The royal demiselles will find the American soldier interesting for himself as well as for the fact that he will be helping the French to fight their battles against a common foe. Many of them may see fit to follow the example of the American girls in giving cheer to soldiers through the medium of letters. The Yankee who can read these messages of friendship and well wishing as they come will be fortunate. The others will have to take the greetings second-hand.

Spirit of the Press

No Lid at Washington.

The action of the Senate in passing without opposition a resolution providing for an investigation into the accident on the Mongolia, when two nurses were killed by the rebound of a shell is a reminder that there is no lid clamped down on the affairs of Army or Navy, or the general administration of the war. No censor can control the action of Congress or restrict its freedom to ascertain and act upon the facts in any situation or issue which may arise. There must be no repetition of the "canned beef" scandals of the Spanish War.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

The Trained Farmer.

The two fundamental features of the campaign against Germany are farming and fighting. We shall do some of the fighting, but more of the farming. We have less than twice the population of Great Britain, for example, and—roughly—100 times the tillable land. We may have to fight a good deal before the Kaiser is brought to democracy's terms, but assuredly we shall have to farm a great deal. And farming cannot be done to advantage on the volunteer system. It depends for results upon the selective draft. This should be considered by those who will enroll men for the army.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Surprising Result.

It was to be expected that the wedding out process at the officers' reserve training camps would eliminate many candidates, but who could anticipate that this would mean the dropping of as many as 1,600 men at Plattsburg alone? Either an unusually high standard is called for or the quality of manhood at this camp was much below the average.—Buffalo Commercial.

Sillicus—"Few of us can dope out the psychological moment for matrimony." Cynicus—"That's right. By the time a man is old enough to get married he feels that he isn't young enough."

How National Advertising Cuts Dealers' Sales Cost

(Copyright—Mallory, Mitchell & Faust)

National advertising helps the dealer by increasing his volume of sales. It does this in three ways:

First, by EXTENDING THE MARKET for the product.

Second, by CREATING NEW USES for the product.

Third, by CREATING A MARKET for NEW products.

Another most important way in which dealers benefit by handling advertised products is the result, not only of increased volume of sales, but of the willingness of the consumer to ACCEPT readily the goods when offered by the dealer.

This CONSUMER ACCEPTANCE created by manufacturer-advertising results in ECONOMY to the dealer, economy of time and hence of money.

Economy of time is secured because the name of the product has been standardized in the user's mind. The customer will accept an advertised brand at once and without question or argument. She knows what it is. The salesman does not need to take time to talk it up—SELL it. It has ALREADY BEEN SOLD through the advertising. The dealer needs only to offer it and the consumer ACCEPTS it. The transaction is completed in a minimum of time.

Contrast this with the sale of an unadvertised brand.

The customer comes in and asks for a specific brand of some product, which she has seen advertised in the magazines, in the local newspapers and on bill boards. She wants this particular brand, for the advertising has convinced her of its superiority over other brands.

But suppose the dealer has not recognized the value to himself of handling advertised brands and cannot fill the order. He must either lose this sale then or take time to SELL her the unadvertised brand which he happens to carry. He must take time to convince her that the brand he offers is "just as good," that "Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Jones both buy it" and all the rest of the salesman's story.

Even though he finally persuades her to accept the unadvertised brand he is the loser in not having had what she wanted. For while making this sale, he could have filled the orders of other customers who were waiting. This in addition to the fact that he has sent away a dissatisfied customer who will probably go somewhere else next time where she can get what she WANTS.

Even if a customer has not indicated a definite preference for an advertised brand she will often be found to have a very clean cut idea of what she does NOT want when the dealer offers her an unknown brand of questionable value.

SELLING unadvertised brands requires more time, more clerks, more expense, than FILLING ORDERS for advertised brands which are readily accepted when offered. And dealers who do not value their own time have learned to know that they must value the amount of time their customers will grant them.

Did You Know
That Harriet Beecher Stowe was born in Litchfield, Connecticut, June 14, 1811? When she was twenty-one she went with her father, Lyman Beecher, to Cincinnati, which was on the border land of slavery and where she often saw fugitive slaves. In 1833 she made a visit to a slave plantation in Kentucky where she obtained additional data for the book that she was to write. In 1836 she married Calvin E. Stowe, who was connected with Lane Theological Seminary, and in 1850, Professor Stowe accepted a professorship in Bowdoin College, they moved to Brunswick, Maine. This year marked the passage of the fugitive slave law which so aroused Mrs. Stowe that she immediately began writing "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which was published in book form in 1852.

Thanks "I. G." for your message kind: It really does one good to find That tho' out of sight they're not out of mind.

When I from the "M. P." passed from view, I intended to stay but confess to you That I find it rather hard to do.

And tho' I'm back it's not to fight: I've decided at last that it isn't right! And to this resolution I'll now hold tight.

And while I was glad to learn that you Was worried about me I hope it's not true That you and Bill were in a stew.

I'm not a slacker nor meek little lamb, And would like to fight for Uncle Sam, But I'm needed now just where I am.

A Red Cross nurse I'd love to be And yet if the choice was up to me I'd join you and Bill in Company G.

And it would sure be lots of fun To "forward march" each with his gun And put the Kaiser on the run.

We'd fight to get our country free, And there's luck they say in numbers three. So some day I'll enlist with Bill and I. G.

To Save and Have Beautiful Hair

The best thing to use is kreamol, a liquid which you can get at almost any drug store.

A small amount, only one or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly.

Simply moisten the hair with water, rub in a little of kreamol, massage well and then rinse in clean water. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and removes the dust, dirt and dandruff.

Do not use cheap soap or cheaply prepared shampoos if you want to keep your scalp clean and the hair soft and beautiful.

You will find kreamol very inexpensive as a four ounce bottle will be sufficient to last every one in the family many weeks.—Adv.

Kreamol is sold at Evans' Drug Store (Warden Hotel Block), Newark, Ohio, and Gilman's Drug Store, Granville, Ohio.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth McKenna, mother of the bridegroom, South Third street. Pink and white predominated in the decorations. The unshaded candles of white were placed in crystal holders and a crystal basket filled with pink and white peonies centered the table.

Mr. and Mrs. McKenna left for an extended wedding trip to New York, Atlantic city and other eastern points. On their return they will be at home in South Third street.

COD ROE SWEDDOISE—Slice the roe and fry a rich brown in butter. On each slice is laid a slice of lemon and a small butter ball mixed with chopped parsley. Garnish with slices of tomato and serve cold.

NORSE COD—Prepare cod as for frying. Dot the bottom of the casserole with bits of butter, then place in it a layer of fish. Dust lightly with flour, salt and pepper. Dot with butter and repeat. When the fish is all used pour over it a half cupful of water or fish stock, a third of a cupful of orange juice and the juice of half a lemon. Add parsley and onion. Fit the cover tightly and bake until tender.

BREAKFAST HERRING—A tasty breakfast dish is to take a dozen herring, fillet and wash, add then roll them. Place a small piece of butter or drippings on each, with pepper and a touch of vinegar. Bake slowly for half an hour.

Belgian Fish Stew—Prepare a sauce made of two medium sized onions, one carrot, a small celery stalk, all sliced rather thin; fifteen peppercorns, salt, a little water, a dessertspoonful of vinegar and three thin slices of lemon. Boil for about thirty minutes. In this liquid boil four slices of fish, preferably halibut, cut about half an inch thick. When the fish is cooked remove from the fire and rub the vegetables through a sieve. Heat one ounce of butter and put into it a teaspoonful of flour, and then add the strained liquid. Stir in the juice of two lemons and the yolks of two eggs. Cook until thickened sufficiently and pour over the fish.

Swiss Creamed Fish—Mix smoothly in one cupful of cold milk a tablespoonful of flour. Stir it into one cupful of boiling milk and when thick and smooth add the meat of any cold fish, picked free from skin and bones. Season with salt, pepper and a tablespoonful of butter. If the cream is desired to be extra rich one well beaten egg may be added one minute before removing from the fire. Serve hot. A pinch of cayenne or a saltspoonful of paprika is relished by many.

Our Boys and Girls

If not for actual camping, a small portable house is an admirable playhouse for the children. If one has outdoor space to accommodate it. While it can be furnished with durable livable furniture and may have sufficient rooms and comfort to accommodate a whole family, there is no reason that a house of this sort should not serve as a playhouse, when real housekeeping can be taught, as well as the joys of frontier and mimic "life in the open."

The writer visited a family of children who had a charming playhouse. It was built of dove-tailed boards with a wooden floor, and while it was in only about five feet square, it accommodated four children around its little table. The one window had muslin curtains as had the window in the door.

What child can't be kept busy for hours if he has something he can mold into any form or shape? When plain old fashioned mud pies can be such fun, what magic can be worked with colored clays which are easily molded?

The modeling clay costs only 25 cents a pound or thirty in the colors, and with it all manner of pretty forms from jugs to turtles can be made. With just a little help from mother a good deal can be learned about form and line in this way and small hands can be taught to obey the eye. But even left to their own devices, entirely, a few children can have much fun and come to no harm with a tray of modeling clay.

liable to colds. So unless there is time and inclination to do both, a cleaning down with tepid water and plenty of soap and one or two tub baths a week, ought to be the golden rule for the average woman.

It is an excellent idea to harden oneself against colds through the use of cold water, especially where changes of temperature are frequent and sudden. If we only had more time to devote to our physical well-being we might do a great deal in that direction without going to any great expense. It is, for instance, quite marvelous what air baths will do if taken regularly and with proper directions. Air baths are quite an established luxury in Europe during the last ten years. In Germany, in several large cities, the government has built suitable establishments to facilitate the taking of air baths.

A large number of eminent physicians have made a special study of the effects of air and sunlight on the human body and attribute to it very powerful restoring, exhilarating and healing influence. To what extent we can harden our bodies has been demonstrated by air cult followers for whom it is quite a usual matter to walk without clothes even with snow on the ground.

There are even entire woods devoted to this cure in Dresden where really wonderful cures are being effected. We are as yet very far from understanding and appreciating fully the wonders of nature, notwithstanding that numbers of us sleep out of doors.

Hot Weather Complexions.
What are you doing for your complexion these warm summer days when dust is in the air and the sun burns at every turn? Never in the whole year are you quite so anxious to look your best as now. The quickest and most direct way of treating the blemishes that come with the hot weather is to take each one separately and apply its own specific remedy.

Powder is one of the causes of a bad complexion at this time of year. But this does not imply that face powders are not good for the complexion, on the contrary it can be stated that they are highly beneficial, but one must know how to use them. Powder should be applied to the face only after it has been rubbed with a good cleansing cream, and ever then it should be put on lightly and rubbed in until not a particle of it is visible.

Wash the face daily in very hot water. Use plenty of soap, lathering the face and neck with soap jelly, and rinsing it off afterwards with a bath hose. Let no soap remain upon the skin, but be sure it is removed by using as many waters upon it as one has patience to apply. After the thorough washing, the skin must have a little cream or a little skin food massaged into it.

If the cheeks are thin, or there are hollows in the neck, there is nothing so beneficial as slow massage. A gentle "spatting" of the skin will develop it and increase the flesh underneath. For a thin face five minutes heavy massage is preferable.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, June 14.—Reports of large world shipments of breadstuffs gave the wheat market today a downward impulse. It was said many more vessels for commercial purposes have been released by the entente allies. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/4c to 1/2c lower, with July at 2.30 and September at 2.05 were followed by a slight rally and then a descent further than before.
The market closed heavy, 6 to 7 1/2c net lower, with July at 2.25 and Sept. at 2.00.
Predictions of fair weather sent corn values down grade. After opening 1/4c off to 1/2c up, the market underwent a sharp general setback, and then scored a moderate rally.
Quotations closed 3/4c to 1 1/2c net lower, with July at 1.54 to 1.54 1/2c and September at 1.43 to 1.43 1/2c.
Oats eased down in sympathy with corn. A big decrease in stocks at Minneapolis though exerted a steadying influence. Baring that, wheat was credited to packers tended to uphold pork and ribs. Lard showed weakness.

LICKING COUNTY OVERSUBSCRIBED FOR LIBERTY LOAN

of 50 weeks will be given a $50 government bond plus the 3 1/2 per cent interest which the bond pays. The interest will be given only in case the regular weekly payments are made throughout the year.

All of the Licking county banks, building associations and newspapers co-operated in pushing the bond sale in this community. Chairman Metz and his associates are to be congratulated upon the success of the campaign.

The next big job is to raise $40,000 which is Licking county's share of the Red Cross hundred million dollar fund. The campaign starts next Monday with the leading men of this city on the job.

The money goes to take care of our own Licking county boys in war. The people are expected to give freely and liberally. When the bells and whistles sound at 9 a. m. next Monday that will be signal that the campaign is on.

A Washington dispatch this afternoon reports the total Liberty loan subscription up to 1 p. m. today to be $1,843,000,000.

STILL $200,000,000 SHY.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, June 14.—Figures announced by the treasury department at noon indicate that about $200,000,000 is yet to be subscribed to the Liberty Loan. Official completion was not complete as all districts had not been heard from.

OHIO DISTRICT SAFE.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Cleveland, June 14.—With another day left for subscriptions to come in Cleveland reached the $51,000,000 mark this morning in its liberty bond campaign. Managers of the firm said today they expected to be a record on subscriptions and predicted the $22,000,000 mark would be passed today. Cleveland's maximum allotment was $45,000,000.

Fourth district federal reserve bank officials said the district had between $210,000,000 and $215,000,000 of its maximum allotment of $225,000,000 this morning and predicted practically every city in the district will meet its quota and that the $225,000,000 maximum allotment would be reached by tomorrow.

Pittsburg and Cincinnati are already over their quota; Lexington, Ky., is forty per cent over subscribed; Wheeling has $200,000 over its quota and Toledo, Akron and Dayton, Ohio have their quota.

GIVES AID TO SOCIETY.
(Associated Press Telegram)
La Port, Ind., June 14.—In all the United States there can not be a bigger subscriber to the Liberty Loan than John D. Rockefeller or Andrew Carnegie than John Eldrid, for Eldrid has given all he had.

All his life Eldrid has been a printer employed by the Laporte Herald. By industry and frugality Eldrid saved $10,000. Today the entire sum is represented in the Liberty loan.

"It is my bit," said Eldrid, but it is believed by his friends here that his "bit" makes him the largest working man bond holder in the country.

LIBERTY BELL SOUNDED.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Philadelphia, Pa., June 14.—A faint peal from the Liberty bell in Independence Hall reverberated, with the aid of the telegraph from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast today, when Mayor Smith struck America's most revered relic with a golden hammer to call last minute subscribers to the service of the nation.

This eleventh hour appeal to tardy Americans are asked to be the signal for an avalanche of late subscriptions which will over subscribe the government's entire war loan of $2,000,000,000.

TIME NOT EXTENDED.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, June 14.—Before noon tomorrow, when the Liberty loan subscription period closes, a sum probably between $200,000,000 and $600,000,000 must be subscribed to raise the loan to the $2,000,000,000 mark. The latest figures computed at the treasury indicate that with the exception of New York the country's subscriptions have fallen 30 per cent or more below the maximum allotment. Reports that the closing hour of noon tomorrow would be extended were denied emphatically today.

TOLEDO DISTRICT FINISHED.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Toledo, June 14.—Toledo and the 19 northwestern Ohio counties in this district have over subscribed their appointment of $16,000,000 of Liberty Bonds. This announcement was made by Howard I. Shepherd, chairman of the bank committee at noon. Of the total amount Toledo banks took $1,500,000.

COLUMBUS ABOUT 7 MILLIONS.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, O., June 14.—Indications today are that Columbus will exceed $7,000,000 in subscriptions to the Liberty loan by the time the campaign comes to an end this evening. Her quota, as allotted by the liberty bond committee for this district is but $5,140,000.

John Bull.
For many generations England has been nicknamed "John Bull." "John Bull" means beefy, brawny and obstinate. It is a popular personification of the English people. He is represented as a bluff, corpulent, irascible old fellow, clad in leather breeches and top boots and carrying a stout oaken cudgel. The nickname is derived from Dr. Arbuthnot's satire entitled "The History of John Bull," a political sketch on the subject of the Spanish succession, first published in 1712 and afterward reprinted complete in Pope's "Miscellany" in 1725.

Arbuthnot thus describes John Bull: "In the main he was an honest, plain dealing fellow, choleric, bold and of very inconsistent temper. Very apt to quarrel with his best friends, especially if they pretended to govern him. If you flattered him you might lead him as a child."

GREEK SITUATION NOT MENACING TO CENTRAL POWERS

(Associated Press Telegram)
 Berlin, June 13, via London, June 14.—The absence of adequate telegraphic communications with Greece has left Berlin without authentic information regarding events since the news of the abdication of King Constantine was received. The Greek legation has been cut off for several weeks from all communication with its government, receiving only occasional perfunctory instructions of a routine nature by way of Switzerland.

The impression prevails here that the new state of affairs will have no bearing on the military situation in Macedonia. The evening papers publish copious comments lauding Constantine. The Lokal Anzeiger says: "The news indicates the final chapter in one of the moving tragedies of the world war. This is not strategy with a single hero. This is the story of the ravishment of a whole people and in vain will one search history for a parallel. It is plain as sunlight that Constantine laid down his crown only because he had not the heart to deliver up his people to starvation at the command of England and France. Russia and Italy appear to have been pushed aside in the recent entente undertaking. The newly created and extraordinary Enver Pasha has forced the King to abdicate under pain of the confiscation of the harvest of Thessaly. Because the King was deprived through thumb screw methods of every weapon with which he might effect his escape from such a predicament he was forced to decide to give up his throne.

The Tagblatt suggests that it is possible that the role Constantine played in Greece is not yet concluded. "If for the moment," the paper says, "Constantine was forced to retreat in the face of overpowering opposition, a source of comfort left to him out side the consciousness of duty well done is the knowledge that the new turn of things has disposed of his worst enemy, the man who has been opposing him in his own country.

Venezelos and his movement, as is now plain, are but episodes in the progress of the tragedy of which we have been spectators. Venezelos a willing tool, is the grave digger of Greek independence. The pit however, is also prepared for him, since the scope of his power and influence have proved a disappointment. The Vossische Zeitung does not believe that active participation in the war on the part of Greece will have any decisive bearing on the final outcome. It says: "Will Greece in defiance of her most important immediate and future interests, be forced to send her sons to the French and English shambles? The answer must be forthcoming within a few days. However it may read, it will not have a decisive bearing on the final results. The sad contemplation with which we follow the progress of this Hellenic tragedy is unmingled with selfish thought or fears. It is purely of an ethical nature. It is the pain which every righteous thinking man must feel as he observes how hypocritical expediency unites with force to drag down a small and valiant nation. What ever may come we Germans will not forget the high moral courage with which Constantine and his royal people persistently refused to take up arms against us."

WHITE TOP ANIMAL HOSPITAL HAS MANY STRANGE PATIENTS

A little monkey with a broken leg looks pathetically up into the eyes of Dr. John Patterson, chief veterinarian with the Barnum & Bailey circus. Patiently he endures the pain of having the broken member set and placed in splints. Then he remains quite still until the gentle doctor lifts him up and carries him to the animal hospital attached to the show. The little sufferer knows the doctor is his friend and that he is being helped to get well. So do most of other animals in the circus understand when Dr. Patterson treats them for various ailments.

This strange department of veterinary medicine and surgery is maintained as a necessary adjunct to the Barnum & Bailey circus which is to exhibit in Newark next Saturday. Not only does the menagerie of the big circus house more than 1,000 wild animals of every kind and description, but the show also carries this season more than 750 horses. Despite the best of care, it is impossible to keep each and every member of this immense Noah's Ark in perfect health at all times, so a skilled veterinary surgeon is really a necessity.

A small hospital tent for the animals is erected on the circus grounds every day, and it is here that the ailing horses and other animals are kept and treated. Sometimes the hospital is unoccupied for weeks.

"THE PRICE SHE PAID"

By Clara Kimball Young.

I hope that all who see "The Price She Paid," especially the women, will not regard it simply as an interesting story, an evening's entertainment, and overlook the message it carries to all women—and a good many men.

That message is—stop coddling yourselves. Mildred Gower, the character I play in "The Price She Paid," was no worse than the average young woman of today, and she brought her troubles on her own head through coddling of herself. And the cause of this condition with her, as with thousands upon thousands of women in real life is the habit of fear.

We are afraid, we are going to be poor, or hungry, or cold, or unfashionable, or unattractive. We create a whole host of possible discomforts, and then fly into a panic before them, when there is not the slightest danger. And then we sacrifice everything on the altar of this self-made fear.

We are not healthy and strong, because we are in constant fear of being sickly and weak, and through shrinking from the temporary inconveniences caused by forming such healthy habits as early rising, moderate eating, and regular exercise, we slip into the lazy methods of life which cause half our ills. When Mildred Gower in "The Price She Paid," had almost despaired of achieving success as a singer, a man whose mother had been through the mill and had won great renown, told her his mother's rules of life. They were:

"First, means self-denial. Not occasional, intermittent, but steady, constant, daily, hourly—a purpose that never relaxes.

"Second, means not only the routine, patient, tedious work, the cutting out of time-wasting people and time-wasting things, but the sacrifice of everything beyond a character undisciplined and corrupted by conventional life.

"The basis of a singing career is health and strength. Diet and exercise, day in and day out, month after month, year after year, must be maintained. No indulgence in food, nothing alcoholic to drink, no cigarettes.

"A delicate voice" is the gilly, shallow, mistletoe way of saving a delicate digestion, for sore throat always means indigestion, never means anything else.

Exercise. You must make your body strong, powerful.

Within my knowledge, sixty-eight young men and young women have started in on this system. Not one had the character to persist to success. This may suggest why, except two who are at the very top, all of the great singers will be men and women whom nature has made powerful of body and of digestion—so powerful that their indiscretions only occasionally make them unreliable.

These are rules which could be adopted by every woman, with great benefit to herself, not matter whether she wants to be a singer or not. For health is the foundation of success in everything. The few exceptions to the statement that no great work ever was done by a sick man prove the rule. In these exceptions you will find that the reason success has reached his full possibilities because his strength failed.

But more important than all these things is the mental and spiritual result of such a regime. It brings to a woman something that is greater than mere success—riches should, in fact, be the whole motive of success—independence of thought and action.

Women are taking their proper place in the world today because by slow stages, they are beginning to understand that they have nothing to fear, that they can stand alone. They are no longer afraid to undertake tasks that have always been regarded as the work of men. The same realization that makes them clever lawyers, doctors, authors, artists and so on makes them better sweethearts, wives and mothers than were their grandmothers.

This is what I mean when I say that there is more in "The Price She Paid" than a mere evening's entertainment. The story of Mildred Gower might be that of any woman, and I hope that this story will not be looked upon simply as a delightful romance, but rather as a guide to the better life of America, and be an inspiration to reach out toward a stronger self-consciousness.

"The Marcellini Millions."

The Auditorium field fairly good crowds yesterday and George Behan's first appearance at this theater in the Paramount feature "The Marcellini Millions" proved a great success. Mr. Behan is perhaps the greatest character actor of Italian people in the country and together with a splendid cast, also as an added feature a two reel comedy, "Auditorium," will be well repaid for the time spent. The story of "The Marcellini Millions" follows:

Guido Bartelli, an Italian truck gardener, with his wife and baby, is living perfectly on a little farm. Leo Marcellini, a wealthy wine merchant, having wronged the mother of one of his clerks, Wade Crosby, who has his entire fortune, but when Crosby insists upon marrying the stenographer, Marcellini, overcome with rage, tears up the co-partnership papers and the will, but the letter containing the will falls to the floor and is unobserved. In the excitement Marcellini is stricken with a heart attack which results in his death. The only living relative who can be found is Guido and he and his wife are made sole owners of the beautiful Marcellini estate, two crooks, Mr. and Mrs. Murray descend upon the fortune and act as their social mentors, and proceed to spend for them the Marcellini millions. Guido delights his new name—he is uncomfortable and Mrs. Murray takes Antoinetta, his wife, dresses her in fashionable clothes and escorts her into society. Guido feels his wife slipping away from him and goes to the old home and moves his furniture into the big mansion. Through Mrs. Murray's influence the wife becomes indignant and when Guido finally orders her back to the little truck garden and when Guido returns from the field he finds her there hard at at a time, but on other occasions it may be full to overflowing. Dr. Patterson and his score of assistants make a personal examination of every horse and every menagerie animal daily, and the utmost vigilance is exercised to keep the animals in a healthy condition.

Most of the animals are easily handled and seem to understand that medical treatment will do them good instead of harm, but now and then an extremely difficult case presents itself for consideration. Not long ago it was found necessary to remove some ingrowing claws that were driving a beautiful lioness frantic with pain. It required the combined efforts of eight men to rope and hold the lioness while the operation was being performed. A piece of scantling was thrust into the cage to pin the animal in a corner; then a noose was dropped over her head. While this was going on ropes were also slipped about the animal's head and body. She was drawn firmly against the bars and, as her feet protruded through them, they were seized and held. In this way the surgeon was able to do his work in safety.

Animals live very healthy lives, and serious illnesses are the exception and not the rule. The outdoor life seems to agree with all of them, and the veterinary is really a busier man in the winter-time when the show is not on the road than he is during the regular circus season.

Auditorium. "The Marcellini Millions." The Auditorium field fairly good crowds yesterday and George Behan's first appearance at this theater in the Paramount feature "The Marcellini Millions" proved a great success. Mr. Behan is perhaps the greatest character actor of Italian people in the country and together with a splendid cast, also as an added feature a two reel comedy, "Auditorium," will be well repaid for the time spent. The story of "The Marcellini Millions" follows:

Guido Bartelli, an Italian truck gardener, with his wife and baby, is living perfectly on a little farm. Leo Marcellini, a wealthy wine merchant, having wronged the mother of one of his clerks, Wade Crosby, who has his entire fortune, but when Crosby insists upon marrying the stenographer, Marcellini, overcome with rage, tears up the co-partnership papers and the will, but the letter containing the will falls to the floor and is unobserved. In the excitement Marcellini is stricken with a heart attack which results in his death. The only living relative who can be found is Guido and he and his wife are made sole owners of the beautiful Marcellini estate, two crooks, Mr. and Mrs. Murray descend upon the fortune and act as their social mentors, and proceed to spend for them the Marcellini millions. Guido delights his new name—he is uncomfortable and Mrs. Murray takes Antoinetta, his wife, dresses her in fashionable clothes and escorts her into society. Guido feels his wife slipping away from him and goes to the old home and moves his furniture into the big mansion. Through Mrs. Murray's influence the wife becomes indignant and when Guido finally orders her back to the little truck garden and when Guido returns from the field he finds her there hard at

"A run for your money"

"We have used up two hours time and a good disposition selling a man his first Diamond tire. He didn't know the tire very well and wasn't quite sure of us. But there is no money in that kind of business—unless they come back for more."

"There's the point. We can sell almost any make of tire once."

"But what's the use?"

"We want to be your regular tire dealers now and for a long time to come."

"We have the tires, we have the prices, we have the inclination, too."

Every Diamond Tire must deliver full value in service. If ever a Diamond Tire fails, a cheerful, willing adjustment will be promptly made.

For same and that his patrons are getting the best ever, Miss Young in "The Price She Paid" is seen at her best. This play written by the late David Graham Phillips, was one of the big sellers in book form and it has broken all records in drawing powers in film form.

Jack Richards, Jack Richards, the "voiced" tenor, last season the hit of the A. G. Field's minstrels, remembered by his excellent singing of "Sister Thelma" and "The Gold," will sing several latest New York successes at the Auditorium Sunday. Mr. Richards is only a six weeks contract at the Auditorium theater.

Zanesville, where he is making a most wonderful hit.

These papers are giving him much newspaper space during his engagement there and it is only through the kindness of the management of that theater that we are able to hear him here next Sunday.

ALHAMBRA, Friday and Saturday.

"The Power of Decision," the five-part photodrama, starring beautiful Frances Nelson, which will be seen at the Alhambra theater Friday and Saturday is a play of great mental and moral stimulus.

The central idea of the play is that "Every mortal has within himself the God-given power of decision."

Margot, the artist's model who marries a famous author, is called upon to exercise this power amid circumstances which will puzzle a wiser head than that of this girl.

"The Power of Decision" raises many important questions which cannot help being of the deepest interest to motion picture patrons. Among them are: "Has a woman a right to marry a man she does not love?" "Which will last the longer, blind love or an esteem based on nobility of character?" "Will not an honest decision strengthen the moral fibre for good and all?"

These problems confront Margot, the heroine of "The Power of Decision," and she is forced to face the alternative of finding an answer for them in her own life or drifting aimlessly without definite purpose. Her choice is a wise one, and Margot's moral awakening, as told in this convincing photodrama, is of tremendous value and compelling interest.

RED CROSS CALL MOST STUPENDOUS IN WORLD'S HISTORY

"The most stupendous and appealing call in the history of the world to aid suffering humanity confronts the American Red Cross."

That is the way Rev. L. P. Franklin, president of the Newark chapter in charge of Licking county's campaign to raise its share of the $100,000,000 the Red Cross must raise at once to take care of the sick and wounded in the war, today summed up the task ahead of the Red Cross.

"Millions of men who have been fighting for liberty lie dead or wounded; millions of women and children are homeless and helpless; hundreds of towns and villages have been destroyed; disease and distress are rampant."

"Up to now, our own people have not suffered. While Europe has been pouring out her lifeblood, America has experienced a prosperity she has never known before."

"But we now ourselves are in this gigantic war. We now see that the struggle against autocracy and tyranny which our Allies have been making is and has from the first been, in reality, no less our struggle than theirs. We ourselves must now share the suffering which they have endured; we too, must bear the burdens and we must do our part in a real way."

"We are now facing a situation the like of which has never existed. It is most important that every man, and every woman in this country have some idea of that obligation, some idea of what the people of this country are looked to, to supply if we are going to begin our work."

"The American people have been asked to give $100,000,000. It is a large sum of money, but, believe me, the people of this country are not only going to supply that one hundred million, but a very great deal more."

"There has been some question about the obligations of the Red Cross and its particular field of work. If the Red Cross is to be the recognized organization through which this work must be carried on, it must work in many new fields, in many new ways."

"Our great trouble today is that our people do not realize the situation throughout the countries now at war. They must be made to realize them, and the obligations upon us to see that it is done as soon as possible."

"The Red Cross is doing a noble work. To assist is an obligation upon every man, woman and child in this country. I hope that it will be sufficiently well realized that we shall not only enjoy the satisfaction of contributing our energies and our money, but we will also have thereby received a very great benefit."

Newark and Licking county are asked to give $40,000 towards the $100,000,000 Red Cross fund next week. Hundreds of men who will conduct the campaign here next week will give freely of both their money and their time. It is up to all of us to do our bit.

EVANGELICAL CHURCH

SHOWS GREAT GAINS

Rev. Emil N. Krafft of St. John's Evangelical church, left Newark Thursday morning to attend the conference of the Ohio district of the Evangelical church. The conference will meet at Portsmouth, and be in session from Friday to Tuesday. Although there is but one church of the Evangelical Synod of North America in Newark, nevertheless this denomination which has its stronghold in the middle western states, has made remarkable progress in the last year. The last religious census reveals the fact that the Evangelical church has had an accession of over 10,000 new members. The present number of communicants of this church-body has reached the 375,000 mark.

You can get a suit that will not only fit but will wear well at from $15 to $25 if you go to J. M. Mitchell's store. 14-d-11

GIVING OUT

The Struggle Discourages Many a Citizen of Newark.

Around all day with an aching back. Can't rest at night. Enough to make any one "give out." Doan's Kidney Pills are helping thousands. They are for kidney backache; And other kidney ills. Here is Newark proof of their merit:

Ralph E. Lipscomb, machinist, 142 E. Main St., says: "I have a lot of heavy lifting of castings and one night while at work placing a heavy casting in the machine, I was suddenly seized with sharp, shooting pains across the small of my back. For a time, I was just about all in. My kidneys acted freely at times, then again scant and the secretions were painful and contained a brickdust like sediment. As Doan's Kidney Pills had been used by others of the family, I tried them. They helped me from the first and soon cured me. Since then, I have been free from kidney trouble."

BOSLER COMING TO SPEAK HERE NEXT SUNDAY

Hon. Charles H. Bosler, ex-legislator, winner of the interstate oratorical contest in his college days, former baseball star at Granville and leading business man and lawyer of Dayton, O., today accepted an invitation to address a patriotic meeting in Newark next Sunday afternoon.

The meeting is to be held probably in the high school auditorium. Hon. Edward Kibler is to preside. The Buckeye band is to be there. There will be a short patriotic musical program, after which Mr. Bosler will speak.

Charles H. Bosler has a message for the people of Newark and he is well able to fill it. Mr. Bosler should be given a rousing reception.

ELKS' FLAG DAY PROGRAM IS ONE OF MUCH INTEREST

Flag day will be observed by the local lodge of Elks this evening, when a handsome flag will be flung to the breeze from the 60-foot steel flag pole erected over the club rooms.

The Buckeye band will render a concert from 7 to 8 o'clock, and Corinne Inez Lockman will sing several soprano solos. James R. Fitzgibbon will act as master of ceremonies, delivering an address on the purpose of the meeting.

The flag will then be raised while Miss Lockman sings "The Star Spangled Banner," after which Mr. Fitzgibbon will pronounce the oath of allegiance, and those in the audience are requested to repeat the same as follows:

"I pledge allegiance to my flag and the republic for which it stands, one nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Mrs. Lockman will then sing the national anthem, "America," and after a selection by the band Hon. Ralph D. Cole will be introduced and deliver a patriotic address.

All patriotic and fraternal organizations in the city as well as the general public are cordially invited to turn out and take part in the Flag Day exercises.

Y. M. C. A. CAMP IS OPENED BY BOYS AT BUCKEYE LAKE

A light truck left the Y. M. C. A. building early this morning driven by S. J. Daly and packed down with blankets and supplies for the boys' camp, located at Summerland Beach in charge of Physical Director Chas. Allen. For the next two weeks, the boys are expecting a great time. There are fine facilities for swimming and boating. Many of the parents will visit the boys while they are camping.

Boys run regularly between Buckeye Lake and Summerland Beach. The boys who left on the 8 o'clock car are: Chas. Allen, Ralph Stowell, Kenneth Boring, John Fitzgibbon, Raymond Armstrong, Raymond Dunlap, Harold Brinkels, Lester Forsythe, Leo Baker, Frank Taylor, Dale Fessler, Edgar Rutan, Clyde Lewis, Chas. Fundaberg, Allen Snyder, Paul Harlow, Earl Strand. Later in the week the group will be joined by other boys.

It's one thing to place a hero on a pedestal, but quite another matter to keep the dust from accumulating on him.

ROOSEVELT IN LINCOLN SEECH TODAY APPEALS FOR THE RED CROSS, POINTING OUT NEED

Allies who are fighting for all that makes life worth living?

"Into our Red Cross should be poured without stint a heartfelt offering of Thanksgiving that we are permitted to join in this great service to all mankind. Our people have yet to learn the true meaning of sacrifice. We have been so far away from the scene of battle, we have been lulled into such drowsy indifference to duty by our ease and our prosperity, that we could not feel with any intensity the meaning to us of this awful conflict. But now, we must give of our blood and our resources. We see now that this has in fact from the beginning been a war for our liberty no less than for the liberty of our Allies. They have already suffered and endured; they are still suffering far more than we thought it possible for men to endure. Now our opportunity has come. Our soldiers and sailors will do their part without flinching; we may rest assured of their courage and fidelity. The Red Cross offers to us who are not allowed to fight the opportunity for sacrifice and for help.

"We little realize what is before us. Our own sons and brothers will soon be going into battle. They will be three thousand miles from home, in a land already wasted by war, a land threatened by famine, a land smitten by disease. They tell us that in many cases today the wounds of soldiers in France must be tied up with newspaper for want of the necessary surgical bandages. When our own men are wounded—as they surely will be in great numbers—are we going to allow them to suffer yet more because we fail to provide those things which can at least mitigate distress? Surely not! But we must do it in advance. If we wait it may be too late. Do it now! Nine-tenths of wisdom is being wise in time!

"Our Red Cross must not only care for the shattered bodies of our wounded men; it alone can become a foster parent to them in the trying conditions they are sure to face when they are convalescent from wounds or recovering from exhaustion. We shall soon have an army of a million soldiers. When they go to France they must have homes in which to rest and to be cared for and to recover. The generosity of our whole people must make it possible for our Red Cross to provide for them.

"In past wars, the Red Cross devoted itself largely to caring for the wounded behind the battle line. Even in this war that duty is still of vast magnitude and of paramount importance. All that we do or can do for the soldiers of our own or our Allied armies will be too little. But this is a war in which not only armies but whole peoples are engaged. In no previous war have the innocent non-combatants had to bear so terrible a share of its physical sufferings. And it is through our Red Cross that we can show to the nations of the world how the great heart of the American people goes out to them in their distress.

"France—proud, brave, bleeding from ghastly wounds, needs us sorely. Tuberculosis is raging throughout her land. Fifteen hundred of her towns and villages have been razed to the ground by the calculated barbarity of the invaders. Millions of her people are homeless and starving, bereft even of the barest coverings for their bodies, of stoves, of utensils with which to cook or eat, of agricultural implements or animals—indeed of the simplest elements of civilization. And to us alone can these people come for help: we alone have the abundance with which to supply their direct needs.

"To Russia, too, we must reach out our helping hand. We little know what she has suffered and is suffering. Her soldiers went into battle ill equipped with arms or ammunition. Of medical supplies she had almost none. To care for her wounded on a battle line of 1,000 miles she has but 6,000 ambulances, while France has 64,000 in a battle line of 400 miles, and even that is not enough. Russia, long obedient to autocracy has not flinched in this conflict. Her people have had to struggle not only to free the world from autocracy, but to make their own land a land of liberty. Russia needs all we can do to strengthen her courage and to make her feel that we are indeed behind her. Our armies can do little for her. Our Red Cross alone can take into Russia the message of hope, of help, of confidence which she so terribly needs. The message must be practical. It must carry deeds, and not merely words; and it should be carried at once. Probably never before were so many people in dis-dress and agony as in Russia at this very hour. We can take no more vital step toward winning this war than to put renewed heart and strength into Russia.

"So let this summons to our people for a week of sacrifice and generosity be not in vain. Let Red Cross week be a week wherein the whole American people shall pledge to the service of a great cause both themselves and their possessions. Equip the Red Cross for the beginning and for the carrying through, of as sacred a mission as was ever undertaken in behalf of suffering world."

WOMAN CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER LEAPS TO DEATH

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Steubenville, June 14.—Rather than accept the consequences of a verdict of manslaughter returned against her by a jury here last night, Mrs. Julia Petrosky, aged 25, crying "I am not guilty," broke from her court attendants, plunged through a window on the second floor of the court house and to her death on the pavement below. She died a few minutes later.

Mrs. Petrosky was charged with killing John Beem, aged 55, in the Jefferson county jail. She testified that she accidentally shot Beem when he attacked her in the jail.

Inter-State

You Want Quality

You'll find real sheet aluminum running boards on the Inter-State. (Not only do they add to the appearance—but they wear better, and keep the car looking bright and new. "Make-shifts" may be cheaper, but they show it after a few months use. (Notice these aluminum running boards. (They are a concrete example of the quality of every item of Inter-State construction, finish and equipment. (It's quality of this kind that gives you "extra value"—more for your money. You don't sacrifice quality to get economy. (Any Inter-State will prove this statement. (It will pay to investigate before you buy.
